STEEL MILL ROLLER, almost as large as the State Police car behind it, is seen on the north side of the McCambridge Avenue-Edwardsville Road curve Thursday afternoon after it rolled off a northbound tractor-trailer truck headed for Granite City Steel. The 19-ton roller struck the rear tires of a southbound tractor-trailer.

damaging the undercarriage and axle. Neither driver was injured and a large crane and truck were used later to move the roller from the scene. The roller was being brought to the local steel mill from Pittsburgh. This view is looking south along McCambridge Avenue.

River crests but Gabaret island floods

Rising to 35.5 feet Friday and 37.3 feet Saturday, the Mississippi River crested at St. Louis Sunday morning at 37.7 feet, well over the 30-foot flood stage but below the 1973 crests. Sandbag preparation is continuing at Chouteau Island but if there is little additional rain for a few days, further flooding there may be avoided. Families wishing to evacuate Chouteau Island due to rising waters of the Mississippi River are being asked to contact the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter at 452-7184.

Arrangements have been made to store farm equipment, household goods and furniture for those having to leave the island area, Mildred Meehan, Red Cross executive director, announced Saturday.

Persons needing a place to stay until the flood waters recede also may obtain housing accommodation by calling the Red Cross office.

"We lost Gabaret Island this morning," Ted Todoroff, former Madison County civil defense director, said Saturday.

"The water would have to rise another three to three-and-a-half feet before the river reaches the top of the 40-foot levee," he said. If the levee is breached, the water would cover Chouteau Island but this is not expected to occur.

It was learned that several families were starting to move out of the area Saturday morning as a precautionary step.

Sandbags still are being filled but none are being placed at specific locations as yet, the former county CD chief said.

Roller causes truck mishap

Shortly after 1:45 p.m. Thursday a large steel mill roller, weighing more than 38,000 pounds, snapped several chains and rolled off a northbound tractor-trailer as it was negotiating the curve from McCambridge Avenue and Edwardsville Road.

A second truck, driven by Gary Littleken of St. Jacob for the R. M. Bowler trucking firm, was making the curve in the opposite direction when its back tires were hit by the stray roller before it rolled to a stop against a street sign post.

Howard Self, of Michigan City, Ind., a driver for the TMH trucking firm, had transported the roller from Pittsburgh, Pa., and was headed for Granite City Steel when the mishap occurred. Self said he was moving into the left lane to miss several potholes and to make the curve safely when the load shifted and broke the binding chains. The roller then began to roll to the left and leaned the trailer all the way to the ground before it crashed through the sideboards of the trailer to the pavement.

The trailer sprang back to an upright position.

3 incumbents lose in school board elections

DAVID PARTNEY

STEPHEN SALTICH

ROBERT DINTELMANN

PATRICIA BARTSOKIS

More turnover than usual occurred in Saturday's balloting, which saw fairly heavy school voting.

Board newcomers include David Partney in Granite City, Donald Garrett in Madison, James Turner and Raymond Mosby in Venice and Mrs. Patricia Bartsokis in the college district.

An impromptu horn-toting auto parade at 8:30 p.m. Saturday heralded the victory of David Partney of Granite Sheet Metal Works and the Mercer and Thomas mortuaries in Granite City School Board balloting.

Leading the voting was Board Member Stephen Saltich, who accumulated 2,859 votes. With two three-year terms to be decided, Partney garnered 1,933 votes to defeat Board Member Norman Hall, who totaled 1,550.

Charles Luchmann received 957 votes and Dan Wofford Jr. 784.

The decision to close Stallings and McKinley grade schools apparently had little impact on the balloting, but there was a substantial turnout in the district of over 4,800. And displeasure over the plan to close Washington elementary school apparently played a role in the outcome.

With Fifth Ward aldermen displeased with the Washington decision, Partney led Hall 319-45 at Washington and 100-17 at Logan, a difference of 358 compared to the districtwide margin of 283.

Aware that the school closings may have been a factor in the election outcome, Hall said that even with this knowledge he would have voted the same way. He said that finances require the operation of fewer buildings, and that the unanimous board vote to close the schools was in the best interest of the community and children.

School administrators also concede that the closings are shocking to voters.

Many grain elevators are failing financially

A recent rash of grain elevator failures in the state has prompted the General Assembly to stiffen laws governing regulation of the grain trade, beginning this year.

But the state official in charge of implementing the new rules says it could be 1980 before farmers will be protected against elevator insolvencies to the full extent of the new law.

James Onken, chief of the Illinois Department of Agriculture's bureau of warehouses, said it could be 1980 before farmers will be protected against elevator insolvencies to the full extent of the new law.

He spoke at a conference on grain elevator failures. The meeting was sponsored by the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale department of agribusiness economics.

Onken said that under the new law, his staff of examiners will be nearly doubled in order to step up detection of financially ailing grain elevators. But he said it takes six months to train an examiner in the methods of financial and physical auditing of grain elevators and the department has trouble recruiting qualified workers because of low pay.

"We only pay these people $700 a month. I don't know very many people who will take that kind of money for climbing 100 feet up in the air to check a grain silo."

"What usually happens is that we train someone for about two years and then he gets a job with an elevator or with the federal government for more money," Onken said.

The main reason for the increase in the size of Onken's staff is the new requirement for more frequent state examinations of grain elevators. Examinations are required in order for the bureau of warehouses to issue an annually-renewed grain dealers' and warehousemen's licenses. There are about 1,800 elevators in the state. Before the new law was passed, Onken employed 17 examiners.

Other features of the law include limits on a speculative method of selling grain called delayed or deferred pricing.

The limits include controlled printing of special contracts for selling agreements with serialized numbers kept by the department. Also, all elevators must maintain liquid assets equal to 90 percent of the value of grain under this contracting arrangement.

This method of selling grain has been blamed for most of the recent elevator failures.

In the system, farmers sell grain to the local elevator operator but agree to set the price for the grain at a later date.

"It's like collecting from Paul to pay Peter," said Dayton Thomas, a Gallatin County attorney specializing in farm-related subjects. "But one day Paul and Peter both show up and there's no money to pay anybody."

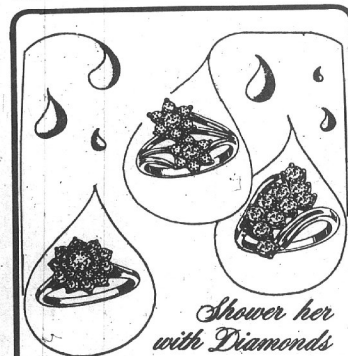

"I know of cases where there would be unpaid grain lying around for three of four years."

Thomas is former Gallatin County state's attorney and currently is acting as legal representative for some of the creditors in the state's largest-ever grain elevator bankruptcy. The elevator, operated by Bob Williams of Shawneetown, is said to owe more than $4.5 million to farmers and others. The elevator was closed late last year.

Two other Southern Illinois elevators were declared insolvent by the Department of Agriculture within the past six months. A Northern Illinois elevator that failed last year owes farmers more than $1.5 million.

Another new feature of regulations to prevent such insolvencies is a required annual audit by a certified public accountant. It had been recommended as early as 1973 but was stalled by opposition from the grain industry until the recent rash of failures.

'Pinocchio' Saturday in GC

The Masquers Community Theater Group will present two performances of the widely-known children's show, "Pinocchio," Saturday, April 21, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Lisa Garcia of Granite City, the director, said the show is an adaptation of the Colodi book, which has proved successful wherever it is produced.

Curtain time will be at 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday. Admission will cost 75 cents per person, children or adults.

Special group reservations may be made in advance by calling 344-1823 (toll free from the Quad-Cities).

A 20 percent discount is offered for all group reservations of 25 people or more, Miss Garcia said.

Pinocchio is the story of Geppetto, the wood carver, who creates a life-sized puppet, but sadly admits he'd rather have a real son.

While he sleeps, the Blue Fairy brings Pinocchio to life and gives him a magical nose, which will grow when he tells a lie. She promises Pinocchio that if he is good, maybe someday he will become a real boy.

His adventures form the basis of the theatrical production. Portraying Pinocchio will be Betty Dartt of Belleville, who will be remembered from such productions as "40 Carats," "Alice in Wonderland," "Cinderella" and "The Wizard of Oz."

Geppetto, the wood carver and Pinocchio's father, is played by Jim Fensterman of Edwardsville. He has been seen in "The Wizard of Oz," "South Pacific," "Tom Sawyer," "1776" and "Hello Dolly."

He has appeared in several productions at SIU at Edwardsville and with the East Bank Players of Granite City.

During Pinocchio's adventures, he meets a cat and a fox portrayed by Debbie Thick and John Mefford. Debbie, a newcomer to the group, has been seen in "The King and I," "Mash," and "Oklahoma," with East Bank Players, and in various Granite City High School South productions.

John Mefford, a Masquer "regular," has been seen in "1776," "Wait Until Dark" and "The Crucible." He has also appeared in several productions of SIUE.

Diane Lewis of Granite City will be playing Columbine, the dancing puppet. Diane has appeared in Masquers' productions of "Little Mary Sunshine," "George M" and "Gypsy."

She has also appeared in productions with East Bank Players and at Granite City High School South.

Bob Lloyd of Granite City is cast in a double role as Jimmy Cricket and Harlequin, the Dancing Puppet. He has been in Masquers' production of "Camelot," "Gypsy," and "George M."

He has also appeared with East Bank Players and Granite City High School South.

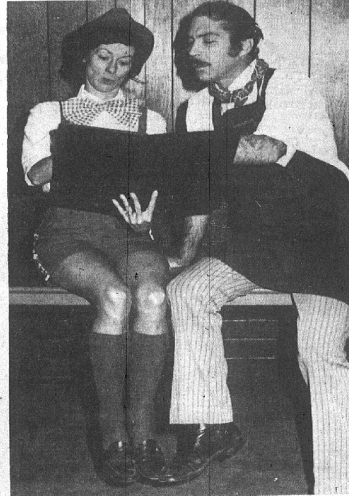

Other cast members are Beth Sobolewski of Granite City, a sophomore at Granite City High School North. She has been seen in the Blue Fairy. Beth has been seen in Masquers' productions of "Tom Sawyer," "Peppermint," "The Wizard of Oz" and "Camelot."

David Vasquez, a junior at Collinsville High School, has been double cast as the Coachman and the Fire-Eater. He has been in "The Wizard of Oz" and "Camelot."

The mischievous Candlewick will be portrayed by Dave Raub. He has appeared in East Bank Players' production of "Mash," and has also appeared in various productions at Granite City High School South.

Dennis Grodzicki, a junior at Collinsville High School, will be seen as the Barker. He has been in Masquers' productions of "The Wizard of Oz" and "Camelot."

He is also an Indian Kahok dancer and has sung with the SIUE Community Choral Society.

PINOCCHIO (Betty Dartt), left, learns the fundamentals of reading from Geppetto (Jim Fensterman) shortly after the Blue Fairy brings the puppet to life in "Pinocchio," a Masquers' production to be presented in two performances Saturday at 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Charlie Baker will be seen in "The Wizard of Oz," portraying Master Cherry in "Tom Sawyer," "Camelot" this production. He has been and "Gypsy."

HARLEQUIN (Bob Lloyd), right, pleads for Columbine's (Diane Lewis) love and affection as they prepare to rescue Pinocchio from a puppet show and restore him to his father, Geppetto, the wood carver, in this scene from the Masquers' production to be seen here Saturday.

3 hurt at Ricco's II

Three persons, including two security guards, were injured and two youths were arrested during disturbances last night and early this morning at Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road. At 1:25 a.m. today, police were told a security guard had ejected several unruly patrons after a fight in the lounge and officers arrived to find two 19-year-olds throwing trash and beer cans at the entrance door.

Officers alleged the two refused to stop yelling, cursing and throwing trash at the doorway and they were arrested. Matthew E. Mohon, St. Louis, and Darrell Jett, Cahokia, were charged with disorderly conduct on complaints signed by the management of Ricco's II.

Jaycee Hutson, 31, of 2510 Parkside Drive, went to the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 12:45 a.m. today and said he had been struck on the head during a scuffle at Ricco's II. A cut to his head was sutured and he was released.

At 2:10 a.m. today, two security guards employed by C&P Security and assigned to Ricco's II went to the emergency room for treatment. James Morshad, 21, Alton, suffered injuries to his chest, right arm and right knee, and John Richardson Jr., 29, of the 2100 block of Benton St., said he had been struck on the chest and kicked on his left knee.

Both guards were examined, X-rayed and released.

decarriage and axle of that truck. Granite City Steel officials were called to the scene and said the roller would be taken to the plant and would be inspected to determine the extent of the damage.

A flatbed tractor-trailer and a large crane were brought to the scene by the Wilbur Waggoner Trucking Co.

The crane was used to load the roller onto the truck and also was used to transfer the steel coil from the Bowler truck to another, as it was not able to be driven from the scene.

Traffic was only slightly impeded at times during the transfer operations and the streets were put back into normal use about two hours after the initial mishap.

Independent candidate in village's election

With two full party slates seeking the three Pontoon Beach village trustee positions to be decided tomorrow, the ballot also includes an independent candidate for trustee, Mark A. Lakatos, 26, of 25 Lakeview Drive.

A lifelong resident of the local area and a 1970 Granite City High School graduate, Lakatos studied political science and sociology at Belleville Area College and also has taken courses in industrial labor relations, leadership psychology and steward training.

Employed at the American Steel Foundries since 1973, he is a shop steward in United Steelworkers Local 1083.

Lakatos, a home owner, voices concern over "high taxes and waste in government."

"I believe as an independent candidate because I believe one-party domination is dangerous to our village board."

"We must maintain a check and a balance in all phases of government. In this way, the taxpayers will be protected."

"Being an independent candidate, I consider myself to be the people's candidate because I don't have the franchise of the larger parties and committees or a group of selected people to back me."

"As a homeowner in Pontoon, I want to see an attractive village in all respects as well as safe."

"I think we should have the intersection of Pontoon Road and Rte. 111 well lighted in all directions. The railroad crossings on Pontoon Road should have an overhead crossing but in the meantime be protected with automatic gates."

"With the municipal tax at 54 percent on the total cost of the power bill this will —"

after the 15 percent Illinois Power increase — need some reconsideration by the citizens of the village."

"This tax may become a real burden to the citizens in the near future. With the inflation of energy, comes the inflation of our tax."

"I believe that with the right leadership, Pontoon has a real future for growth."

"I believe I can contribute good ideas and be a watchful eye for the taxpayers of the village."

"Elected officials should be responsive to all taxpayers through efficiency and best utilization of their money."

SCHEDULED FOR REMODELING, the former Fleishman Building on the northeast corner of 19th Street and Delmar Avenue has been sold to Charles Estes of St. Louis. He is planning remodeling, including cleaning, tuckpointing and new roofing. Present occupants of the building will remain and negotiations are under way with other firms to lease the former Goodwill Industries store.

Fleishman building sold

A downtown Granite City landmark, the Fleishman Building at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, has been sold to Charles Estes of St. Louis, president of Lakeside Roofing Co.

Estes said work began Thursday to replace the roofs and other improvements will begin immediately, including tuckpointing, cleaning and improving the appearance of the building.

He also is negotiating with several firms and individuals to lease the first floor area which recently housed the Goodwill Industries Thrift Store and will lease either to one business or break the area up into two or more stores, he said.

The purchase includes the Carp's Department Store on 19th Street and a former sewing machine store on Delmar Avenue.

Estes said all current clients will be invited to remain in their quarters, including Carp's, AAA Credit Service, the Globe Democrat and the Western Union terminal.

"We hope to improve the appearance of the Fleishman Building and to attract new business downtown," Estes concluded. The sale was negotiated by Orville Hodge of the Hodge Agency.

Madison rehearsals for Polish and Serbo-Croatian festivals

The Slavic Culture Program of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will begin rehearsals tomorrow and Wednesday for performances of an authentic Polish wedding and a Serbo-Croatian spring celebration.

The program will be an exact representation of a wedding from the Kurpie Zielone Puszczy region of Poland and a spring fest "Prigriske Ladacke" from the village of Sestine in the Prigorie region.

Members of the recently formed group will stage the entire performance, including singing, dancing, instrumental music and detailed costuming.

Mark Sarich, research assistant in Special Programs at SIUE, sponsor of the culture program in cooperation with the Slavic and East European Friends of the university, said the program is still open to new members, especially string and clarinet players needed for the Polish wedding and seamstresses for the costumes.

Sarich said the group has researched the village styles and found patterns and embroidery designs with possible variations for making the costumes.

The styles will be authentic down to the variations for men and women based on their marital status and age, he said.

After the first performance in July, the group is expected to remain together as a permanent troupe "to promote the culture" through additional request performances.

Later, they will add other original performances representing different ethnic groups in the Slavic cultures of Eastern Europe.

Sarich said an application for a federal grant in ethnic heritage programs has been completed.

Rehearsals for the spring fest will be held Tuesdays, beginning April 17 at 7 p.m. in the Croatian Hall, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

The Polish wedding rehearsal will be held Wednesdays, beginning April 18, at 7 p.m. in the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood, Madison.

For additional information, Quad-Cityans may contact Mark Sarich at Special Programs, SIUE, at 692-2333.

A knowledge of Serbo-Croatian or the Polish language or previous experience in folk dancing or singing is not necessary to participate.

THE NAVY has recently acquired Kathy Cortez, and she is about to embark on her first tour at sea.

Joins the Navy, and she'll see the Pacific

By Cathy Jamison
Press-Record Staff Writer
The young lady wants to go to sea.

Kathy Cortez, 20, wanted some excitement and adventure in her life, so she joined the Navy. What better way, thought she, to see the world while getting on the job training than the Navy? Miss Cortez was home this spring after completing basic training in Orlando, Fla. She stayed with her mother, Mrs. Janet Jackson, 2304 Grand Ave.

Mrs. Jackson is delighted that her daughter will soon go to sea.

Miss Cortez said that although she has yet to be aboard the U.S.S. Samuel Gompers, the ship on which she will be stationed, she is looking forward to it.

"The idea of touring in the Pacific is exciting," she said, "I hope to see Hawaii and Japan and many other ports in the Pacific."

This being the day of the liberated woman, Miss Cortez is trying for the rank of seaman first-class. "I want to be a part of the crew, not just someone's secretary," she said. "Besides, being one of the only girls on board might be fun."

JIM RISKOVSKY

IS THE ONLY CANDIDATE WHO HAS REAL REASON TO BE CONCERNED ABOUT EACH OF THE FOLLOWING:

Because his mother and father are senior citizens and have lived in Madison their entire life . . . he is naturally concerned about their future needs and welfare as well as all senior citizens in the community!
- ☐ MIDDLE AGE GROUP . . . WHY?
Because he and his wife have chosen to make Madison their livelihood . . . he has a deep concern for their future and wants to help protect their investments as well as the taxpayers!
- ☐ YOUTHS OF TOMORROW . . . WHY?
Because he has two children, ages 16 and 17, who attend Madison schools . . . he has a need to be concerned about their future and welfare in addition to all youths of tomorrow as they are the City's future government!
- ☐ PROPERTY OWNERS . . . WHY?
Because he has real estate in Ward 4 and has invested his future in Madison . . . he has a need to be concerned about property value, its environmental conditions and general surroundings, and wants to maintain a well preserved image of the City.

Zoning hearings Thursday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings Thursday, April 19, in Venice and Nameoki Townships on zoning matters.

At 8:45 a.m. Thursday, the board will meet at 2622 Missouri Ave., where Harrison Padgett is requesting rezoning of three acres from B-3 highway business to a B-4 wholesale business district to establish a towing service and store wrecked cars. The property is in Venice Township.

At 9:15 a.m. Thursday, the board will meet in Arlington Heights where Jerry Maeras is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a double-wide mobile home for at least five years while a residence is being constructed.

The property is in an agricultural district of Nameoki Township and can be reached by taking State Aid Route 35 to the Arlington Heights Road, and then turning left before the apartment buildings and continuing north to the last lots.

BOB KUBAN and the Bob Kuban Brass will entertain at the annual Madison Police dance May 11 at Croatian Home, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are available from any Madison officer or at the Madison Police Department for $3 per person, including setups. Frank Papa, ticket chairman, said there will be gifts. He warned that the number of tickets is limited, and said they should be purchased as soon as possible.

Workshop on bargaining

Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs Director J. Thomas Johnson has announced a workshop on "Collective Bargaining-Labor Relations" will be held Wednesday, April 25, at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville.

"Local government employee organizations have grown considerably since 1975," said Johnson, "and many recognized collective bargaining units have evolved."

"This pattern constitutes a demanding task for some local government officials and an imminent challenge to others who face little or no active employee organization at the present time."

"To assist officials in dealing effectively in this rapidly changing area, we are offering this workshop. It will specifically address such issues as organizing the public sector, beginning the collective bargaining process, key elements of labor relations law and contract administration, management's role and responsibility, and typical areas of employee grievances."

The workshop is being offered by the Department of Local Government Affairs free of charge through funding from the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970.

The workshop, scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., is the last in a series being held at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. Previous workshops focused on purchasing for small local governments, budgeting for townships and road districts, and risk management insurance.

The Lighter Side

By Cathey Jamison

Flattening way to start the day

Nothing brings out the reality of my being a weak little female like a flat tire. I suffered much frustration when I got a flat on my way to work one morning.

My hands were covered in grease as I arrived at work that morning. Co-workers asked if I had fallen down or been wading in a tarpit. What was at that point a bit of mock concern turned hard-line teasing as I told them of my traumatic experience.

Now mind you, I had never had a flat tire before, at least not while I was actually driving the car. I had always heard how blowouts could kill, and I generally keep a pretty close eye on the condition of my tires.

Well, I jumped in the car that morning, without even glancing in the direction of the tires. First mistake. I felt a funny little bumping when I applied the brakes at my first turn. I wondered what it was and told myself that I would stop at a gas station downtown. Another mistake.

Then, just after I had made the turn off Maryville Road onto Route 162, it happened.

What an absolutely horrible noise! You have never heard a more eerie sound than the one that lets you know you are trying to propel a multiple-ton automobile along on three wheels.

I was fortunate in that I was moving at a very low rate of speed at the time. I had been traveling about 35 mph along Maryville Road. I pulled the car off the road and waited a few seconds for my heartbeat to return to normal. Then I tried to decide what to do.

It was really quite an excellent opportunity for me to panic. But for a change, I kept my head. I had never changed a tire in my life. I decided to do what I had seen my husband do at least a dozen times. I set the flashers to going.

I got out of the car to see if I had a spare. I did, a big, fat snow tire. Great.

Upon opening the trunk I spied my CB radio. Ah, help is available, I thought. I may not have to change the rotten tire myself.

Well, I really wasn't dressed for it, anyway. But I did take the jack out of the car. I put out a call and one of my CB friends agreed to come and change the tire. Before he arrived, however, a good samaritan wearing a service station colors stopped and changed the tire for me.

So I went on my way, secure in the knowledge that just as long as there are kind gentlemen around, I may NEVER have to change a tire.

Threatened with knife

Jeff and Vicki Dilday of the 1800 block of Maple St. told police last week that a 21-year-old Roosevelt Avenue man had threatened them with a knife.

Mrs. Dilday was driving west on Niedringhaus Avenue at Walnut Street in mid-afternoon when the 21-year-old ran over and kicked her moving car. She went and got her husband and returned to where the man was.

When Dilday approached the man, the assailant displayed a knife with a curved blade and threatened Dilday, police were told. Dilday returned to his car with his wife and locked the doors.

The assailant then attempted to open both car doors and threatened to cut Dilday's face. Police arrived and took the 21-year-old into custody, but released him after questioning. The parties were advised to contact an assistant state's attorney to press charges, if they wished.

Resigns from SIUE board

The resignation of Dr. David F. Rendleman of Carbondale as a member of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees was announced Thursday at Alton by Harris Rowe, chairman of the board.

Dr. Rendleman, who was appointed by Gov. James Thompson on March 6, felt it necessary to withdraw as a trustee because of what might be construed as a conflict of interest.

"Specifically, he was concerned about his position as a director of the University Bank of Carbondale, depository for SIU funds," Rowe said.

The announcement was made at the April meeting of the board at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine campus.

Dr. Rendleman was appointed by the governor to the position formerly held by Margaret Blackshere of Madison. Rowe said he has not consulted with the governor concerning another appointment to fill the vacancy.

Dr. Rendleman is a surgeon and younger brother of the late SIUE President John S. Rendleman.

Youths' cleanup a community effort

On that Saturday morning, young people of the Quad-Cities began to gather at locations all over the area for a clean-up campaign. It was a massive effort by the kids to do on the outside what their parents were doing inside — spring cleaning.

At 8:30, members of the Free Spirits React Team could be seen setting up a base citizen band radio station in front of First Granite City Savings and Loan on Johnson Road. The React van was used as a communication center for the team, which had mobile units with the youths in order to make sure the day was a safe one.

Around 9:30, the work began. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, DeMolays and explorers, plus band students from Granite City High School North, went to predetermined locations and began the cleanup effort.

Each carried a trash bag provided by McDonald's, which provided refreshments, as did Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Co.

The kids were enthusiastic in their work, making a great game of it. From the areas along the highways leading into the community to the downtown parks, the young people were busy.

In one of the parks, Memorial Park, across from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, cub scouts worked busily, clearing trash. In their exuberance, they also cleaned up all of last year's leaves, making the little park look ready for spring.

The kids were working hard, but seemed to be having a lot of fun. They had little contests with one another, seeing who could fill their bags the fastest.

One little boy had to be slowed down a bit when he took to the curb, gathering leaves and trash that lay at one spot.

Lacey Randolph, chairman of the Community Pride Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the event, said that it went well, with no mishaps to spoil the campaign.

The Community Pride Committee raised funds for the cleanup. Donations from area businesses and industries provided the patches that the participants received. Each patch was inscribed with the words

"Stash Trash, Quad-Cities Cleanup, 1979."

All Quad-Citians benefited from the clean-up effect, according to Randolph. The youngsters learned the value of community service, and residents can look around and see the benefit of keeping the Quad-Cities much cleaner.

Tight rein on local taxation introduced

Governor James R. Thompson's plan to force state and local governments and local school districts to limit their spending was introduced in the Senate last week.

Thompson said that if the limits on taxes and spending he is proposing on state government had been on the books the past eight years, actual growth in appropriations from the General Funds and from the Road Fund, excluding construction, would have been cut in fiscal years 1972 by 8 percent, 1973 by 3 percent, 1975 by 6 percent and 1979 by a fraction of a percentage point.

Regarding his proposed local tax and spending limits, the governor said that had they been in effect in 1977, tax bills would have been lower in 65 of the state's 102 counties.

In addition, lower tax bills would have been experienced that year by taxpayers in 59 percent of the state's townships, 54 percent of Illinois cities and villages, 51 percent of fire protection districts, 65 percent of junior college districts and 52 percent of school districts, he asserted.

The 16-point program, responding to the 1978 general election approval of the "Thompson proposition" to put a lid on taxes and spending, includes both statutory and constitutional changes.

Five of the plan's actions are included in a Senate joint resolution which proposes a constitutional amendment. If it wins legislative approval, it could be placed on the 1980 general election ballot.

The constitutional measures, sponsored by Senator Prescott E. Bloom, Peoria, provide that:

1. Increased appropriations from the General Funds and the Road Fund in any fiscal year could not exceed the percentage of growth in personal income for the last fiscal year in which the percentage is known.

2. When a governor uses a reduction veto on a spending bill, it could take a three-fifths vote in each General Assembly chamber to override the action. Only a majority is now needed.

3. The General Assembly would have to achieve a three-fifths vote in each chamber to increase a tax. A majority would now suffice.

If only a majority approved a tax hike, then the question would go to a statewide referendum. If three-fifths of those voting in the referendum opposed the tax, it would be dead.

4. All mandated programs imposing new or expanded costs on local governments or school districts would be required only if the General Assembly funds the particular program.

5. The governor and the General Assembly would have to maintain in reserve at least 2 percent of all the revenues they estimate will be available for spending from the General Funds in any fiscal year.

Applied solely to local-level, taxing bodies, sponsored by Senator Kenneth G. McMillan, Bushnell, the following pieces of tax-lid legislation were introduced:

A. No local government or school district property tax revenues could grow in any year more than the growth of Illinois personal income in the last known calendar year. The limit would make an exception in the case of payments for bonded indebtedness. A majority vote at a referendum would be needed to exceed the limit.

B. A state school aid formula change would be made to prevent school districts from losing state dollars which might result from the new limit.

C. A "Truth-in-taxation" provision would be enacted, requiring that before increasing the tax levy, taxing units must publish notices, hold public hearings and take public action to raise the levies even within allowable limits. No such notice or public hearing is now required.

D. No new taxing district could be created without the approval of two-thirds of those voting on the question.

E. There would be a rate rollback provision under which any tax rate could be lowered by up to 15 percent if approved by a majority at referendum. Petitions with signatures of at least 5 percent of the registered voters in the taxing district would be needed to place the issue on the ballot. Only one rollback attempt on a single tax rate could be made in each two-year period.

Warriors win Springfield, Mo. Tournament

Special to the Press-Record
SPRINGFIELD, MO. — Things keep getting better and better for the Granite City South baseball team. It got things together here Thursday and Friday and walked away with the big prize in the first Springfield, Mo. Baseball Invitational. But it wasn't easy, and the opponents at the tournament were anything but pushovers. The Warriors from South had to beat Springfield Parkview, Republic, Mo. and Springfield Glendale enroute to the championship and a record of 7-3. South won the title with an 11-8 victory over the defending Missouri Class 4A state champion Glendale team Friday night under the lights. Earlier in the day, the Warriors beat Republic 9-3 after winning 4-2 over Parkview Thursday afternoon.

Press-Record Sports

Mon., April 16, 1979

"We just had a great time," said a happy Babe Champion afterwards. "The tournament's run very well. There are plenty of sports-oriented things to do around here."

The tournament was the first of what Springfield Hillcrest High School coach Dick Birmingham hopes will be an annual event. Hillcrest High was the official host of the tournament. Other teams in the meet were Willard, Mo., and Springfield's Kickapoo and Central Highs. The tournament was played on a guaranteed three-game basis. That is, every team was guaranteed to play three games in the tournament, win or lose.

First game
 In the first game Thursday against Parkview, South started Jeff Tretter on the mound. He went until the sixth inning when he received excellent bullpen help from Dave Weil in

South's 4-2 victory. Tretter helped his own cause by Bob Stegemeier and Thurmon of South and a two-RBI single by Blake Ambush. In the first game of the Friday session, South had little trouble with the opposition, Republic, Mo.; in fact, most of the Warrior team got into the action because of the lop-sided score. North, South in action

GRANITE CITY — Both Granite City North and South's baseball teams will be in action here today, weather permitting. North is scheduled to host Belleville East in a make-up of a rained out game at 4 p.m. South will also be involved in a make-up game. The Warriors are scheduled to play St. Louis University High at 4 p.m. at home. Wednesday, South will travel to Edwardsville for a two-night doubleheader with the Tigers beginning at 4 p.m. Edwardsville will be looking to make it a clean sweep of Granite City teams. It won a 10-6 extra-inning decision Thursday from GCHS North. Madison will again see action Thursday. The Trojans will travel to Livingston for a 4 p.m. game.

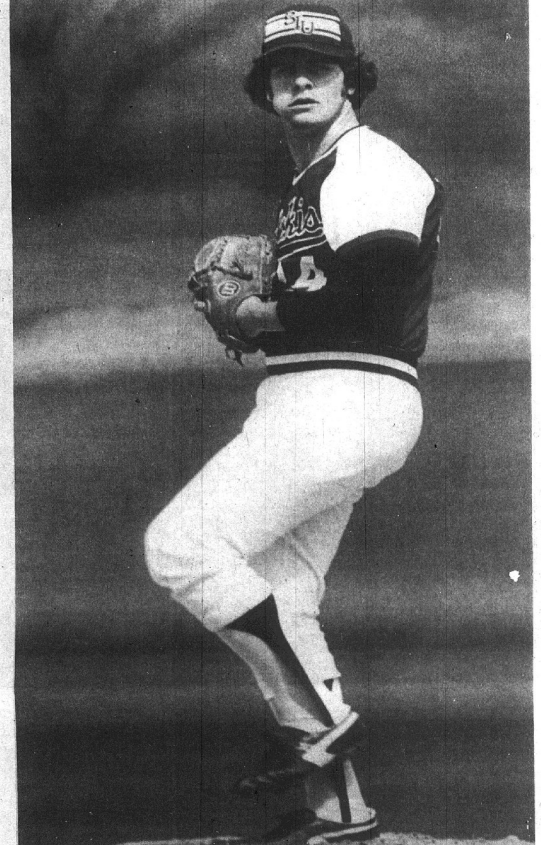

South tourney to start

GRANITE CITY — The annual Granite City South Round Robin Baseball Tournament is scheduled to get underway here this weekend, with games at both South Field and at Wilson Park. The tournament, the fifth annual, will feature high school baseball teams from Kentucky, Arkansas and Granite City. Besides Granite City North and South, St. Mary High School from Paducah, Kentucky and Greene County, Arkansas will participate. Last season, South won the tournament. Both out-of-town schools are new additions to the tournament.

The tournament will be conducted on a round-robin basis. That is, each team will meet every other team once, with the team with the best win-loss record at the end of the tourney being declared the winner. In case of a tie, head-to-head competition will be used to break the deadlock. More information on the tournament participants will be in Thursday's Press-Record sports.

Lady Cougars win

By NANCY WEIL

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's track and field team returned home late Saturday night with some impressive victories after its meet with Augustana College in Rock Island. In field events, the Cougars walked away with firsts in the shot put, javelin and discus. Junior Olivia Allen took first in shot with a put of 35.1, a new school record. Carol Douglas took first in the javelin with a toss of 99 feet and Jane Sumner, for the second consecutive weekend set a new record and took first in the discus. Sumner's throw at the Augie meet was 125.11, four feet past last weekend's throw. Chris Bugnitz remained consistent with a first in the mile run, at 5:24.1, the same time she posted in last weekend's meet. According to Coach Lori Stark, "Chris really did run away with it, the next runner in was over pooled her talent with Patti Wilson, Donna Laughlin and newcomer Jama Ropp to win the 880-meter relay with a time of 2:10.1."

Champion sees 'hope' for his South club

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South baseball coach Babe Champion was a little worn out. He had just returned from a weekend full of baseball. "We're right. His South baseball team won the championship of the Springfield, Mo. Tourney Friday after also playing on Saturday. Then Champion went to Southwest Missouri state University to see his son Keith play baseball Saturday afternoon. But the weekend wasn't quite over. Champion and his wife Sue returned to Granite City Sunday just in time to get back in the car and go up to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. There, Champion watched as another former player of his, Paul Evans, pitched a no-hitter for SIU-Carbondale against SIU-E's Cougars. He also watched as Evans pitched to Granite City John Lakin of SIU-E, who played for him. But the thing foremost in Champion's mind was the fact that he had just taken his South team on a long road trip and returned with the big hardware. "They, we got a real nice trophy," he said. "It's about the size of a football. I really didn't expect it." Not that Champion didn't think his team could win the title. But the trophy wasn't what was important. "I tell my players that the other teams put their uniforms on just like we do," he said. "We were playing some of the top teams from Missouri and came out all right." "Tough teams. Sounds like a broken record. But it was true in Springfield. South went up against a defending state champion for the championship of Springfield. "What I like about games like this is that it shows the guys that other teams are human," said Champion. "But there were some other important lessons, too." For instance, Champion said he wanted to show his club how to capitalize on the other guy's errors. But the other team down there showed them for him. "A team like Glendale will jump right on you if you give them just the tiniest opening," said Champion. "In our game against them, we had four errors. Each time we had a mess-up, Glendale would jump on it and score. "Our defense was very strong," he said. "Since they (Wood River) weren't hitting the ball in the air much, that meant a lot of ground balls to our infielders. We handled them pretty well." While Hubbard and Burton displayed good pitching, only two Oilers from Wood River

GC's Evans pitches no-hitter at Cougars

Special to the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Granite City North Paul Evans pitched a no-hitter here yesterday for Southern Illinois University-Carbondale in the first game of a doubleheader against SIU-Edwardsville. SIU-C won that first game 4-0 and took the second game 12-6. Evans actually came within one pitch of a perfect game. In the fifth inning he walked SIU-E's Randy Manley, the designated hitter. He was the only Cougar to reach base. Evans, a sophomore right-hander, is a graduate of Granite City High School South and played baseball there for Conrad "Babe" Champion. He also played for Champion's Tri-Cities American Legion baseball team. Meanwhile, SIU-C's Salukis were pounding out 10 hits off Cougar starter Tom Ritzheimer. They tallied three runs in the third inning. Saluki catcher Steve Steib singled to left and went to third on a hit-and-run single by centerfielder Kevin House. DeSimone hit a sacrifice fly to left which scored Steib. Rick Fiala, the Saluki's third baseman, then popped a bloop single to center, moving House to second. The Saluki leftfielder Jim Adduci singled to center, scoring House and moving Fiala to third. First baseman Chuck Curry finished the SIU-C scoring when he singled to left, scoring Fiala. The Salukis added another run in the fifth. In the second game, SIU-C jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, added four runs in the fourth, only to see the Cougars come back with three runs of their own in the bottom of the fourth. The Salukis scored four more times in the fifth inning, however, and SIU-E couldn't muster enough firepower to mount a comeback. Granite City's John Lakin, a sophomore, the Cougars' first baseman, went hitless on the day. He of course got nothing off former teammate Evans in the first game in two trips to the plate and went hitless in two trips in the second contest. Lakin and Evans both played at Granite South and for the Tri-Cities Legion team. In that first game, Evans raised his won-loss record to 3-0. South now stands at 21-6, while the Cougars of SIU-E are 8-12.

North shows strength in blasting of Oilers

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Granite City North finally got to pitch somebody besides Steve Doty here Friday. And head coach Babe Stegemeier is happy he did. Stegemeier's Steelers used Mike Hubbard and Keith Burton on the mound in the first five innings here and sprayed a vicious hitting attack around the diamond enroute to an 11-3 victory over Wood River. That victory came on the heels of an exciting 10-6 extra-inning loss to Edwardsville at home Thursday. The Steelers' record is now 3-1. Stegemeier was glad, not particularly because of the lop-sided score, but because his team got a chance to do some things it need to work on. "Our defense was very strong," he said. "Since they (Wood River) weren't hitting the ball in the air much, that meant a lot of ground balls to our infielders. We handled them pretty well." While Hubbard and Burton displayed good pitching, only two Oilers from Wood River and third with nobody out. Mike Robertson then got the umpire in the act. He smashed a line-drive off the official's foot driving in Greco. Awallt and Stamper then got in the act again. They each singled in runs and gave North a substantial lead. Batey then came to bat again. He hit a bases-loaded grounder to third. A run scored and the Oilers were out at first. Dennis Page, who tried to score on the throw to first, was gunned-down at the plate. "I'm glad to get a chance to experiment out there," said Stegemeier. "We got a chance to look at some kids and see what they could do." Keith Burton came into the game for North to pitch the fourth and fifth innings, but needed some fancy fielding by Batey to protect the lead, which by then was 7-1. With two out, and Oilers on first and second, said Stegemeier, "We could have laid down after the first inning and not given anything. But we fought back. That's what I like to see."

North scored one run in the fifth inning and two more in the sixth. Things weren't quite as pleasant for North Thursday at home against Edwardsville, but a lot better than they appeared early in the contest. Edwardsville got to Doty in the first inning when it rocked him for four runs. But then the big (6-2) Doty pitched out at first. The Oilers couldn't touch him... that is, until the eighth inning. Torgerson pitched four runs of his own in the fifth inning. The big blow in that frame was a three-run home run by Mike Robertson. Steve Greco, who had come in to pitch for Doty, couldn't hold Edwardsville at bay any longer. The Oilers scored four times in the extra-frame to make him the loser. "I'm glad at the way we came back," said Stegemeier. "We could have laid down after the first inning and not given anything. But we fought back. That's what I like to see."

Area thinclads in action; hope for 'sunnier' outlook

MADISON — The area's track teams are getting frustrated. If it's not too cold for a meet, there's about four inches of water on the track. At least that was the case here last week when Madison had to postpone for the second time a scheduled meet with Collinsville, Lebanon and Belleville Althoff at its home track. Also washed-out were the scheduled meets last Wednesday between Granite City North and Centralia and between the Steelers and Belleville East Thursday. Both were to have been at Steeler Field. Tomorrow, Granite City South will try to get in a road meet at Riverview Gardens (Mo.). Wednesday, Madison will be entered in the Wood River Invitational.

The next scheduled action for North is April 24 in the Madison County Invitational.

Pabst to McKendree

LEBANON — A top-notch basketball player from Belleville, Illinois, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at McKendree College this fall. "Kip Pabst, who helped to lead the Belleville West Maroons to a 17-8 season mark will join Coach Harry Statham and his caregivers for the 1979-80 season. "Kip is a premier shooter and plays extremely well under pressure," noted Coach Harry Statham. "I think his competitive spirit and desire to excel will make him an outstanding college basketball player." A 6-2 165 pounder, he averaged 14 points and four rebounds per game for Roger Mueller's Maroons last season. Kip was named the News-Democrat All-Area second team for his successful performance during the 1978-79 season. Planning to major in business at McKendree, Statham continued his assessment of Pabst saying, "Kip is also an honor student and is very proud of his academic accomplishments."

Just hangin' around

GRANITE CITY — Suspend a length of rope from the ceiling and kids will flock to it. Hanging upside down seems to be a favorite thing for youngsters to do. Teach them how to climb a rope, stand on a balance beam, work the parallel bars and roll around on a mat and you have a gymnast. All you need at that point is an audience and you come up with a gymnastics show.

All of these things came together not too long ago at Wilson School. The performers were Mrs. Sandra Bowler's physical education students and the audience was made up of students, teachers, and parents.

There is a potential gymnast in most children, their young bodies bending and stretching with ease. There is no fear, the youngsters will try a headstand on the balance beam without too much coaxing.

Mrs. Bowler's students were eager to show their audience what they had learned. Demonstrations were given on the balance beam, parallel bars, ropes and mats.

All were enthusiastically received by the assembly, even when the performer toppled off of the beam or slid down the rope.

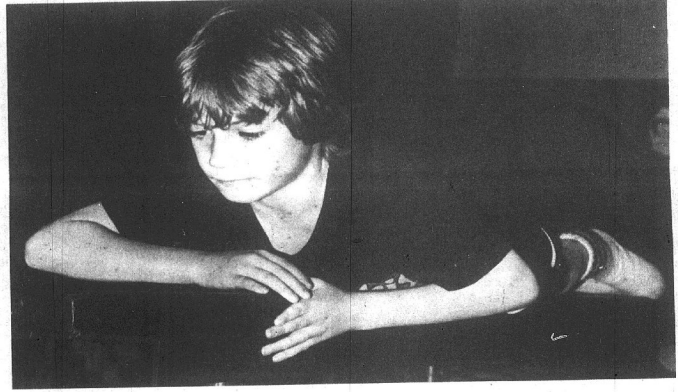

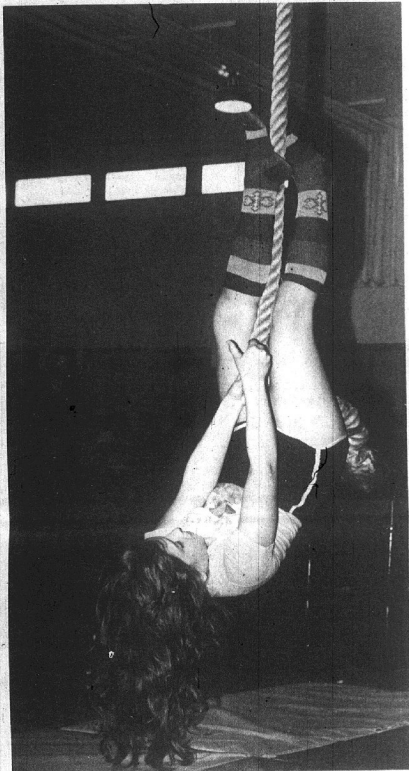

The show finished up with a skillful demonstration involving six kids and three ropes. Hanging upside down while enjoying a slightly different outlook on the world must be fun, as everyone seemed determined to do it.

All in all, the audience seemed to think that watching the demonstration was a fine way to spend at least part of an afternoon.

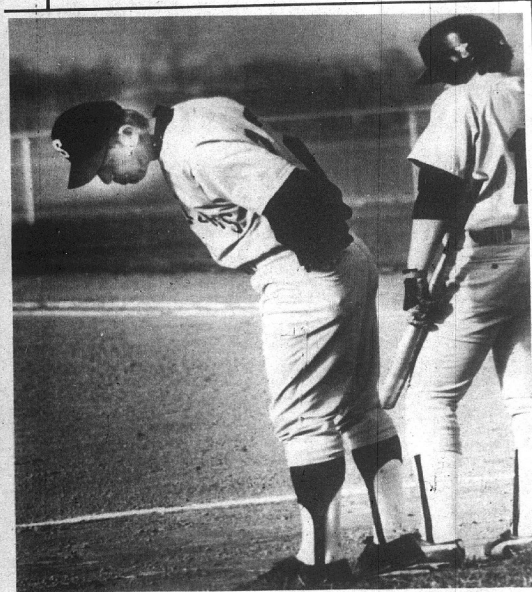

As for the performers, well, they said they liked just hanging around.

South club hockey

It was a total team effort

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The ice is beginning to melt away. It will soon be time for Wilson Park here to begin hustling and bustling with the sounds of bat against baseball and softball instead of the sounds of ice shavings from skates and puck against stick.

But away from the Wilson Park Ice Rink, there was another hockey team in town. The Granite City South Club Hockey Warriors. And they had a tough road to travel.

Receiving only the name of the school from South, the club had to depend on contributions from local merchants and individuals to carry out its season. In fact, all of the money came from these sponsors.

And the sponsors could have taken the attitude of "sticking their necks out." You see, the names of the sponsors aren't allowed to be displayed on the backs of jerseys according to Missouri Amateur Ice Hockey Association rules, under which South's team played.

So the sponsors weren't exactly getting free advertising out of it. It was more a case of doing it to help athletics in Granite

The Sporting Thing

City. They did it for the kids, not out of greed.

It was an uphill battle for the group this season with the money from the sponsors, they had to get ice time, buy uniforms and equipment.

The "Sponsors" were: Granite City Chrysler-Plymouth, Joe Hassler State Farm Insurance and Ron Snelson Auto Body Shop. The "Friends" were: American Heritage Bank, Delmar Mortgage Co., Krekovich Realty, P&S Amusement and Granite City Trust. The "Boosters" were: Abrams Restaurant, C. D. Peters Construction, Gallery of Homes, George Grove Plumbing, Granite City Glass, Granite Sheet Metal, Hodge Agency Inc., Hoffman Realty, M. E. Hoffman Mortgage, Metro East Industrial Supply, O'Brien Tire, the Officer Friendly Program, Felek Realty, Royce Realty, Sobol Realty and Whitt Realty.

The determination of which group was made by the amount donated.

It was a uphill battle for the group this season with the money from the sponsors, they had to get ice time, buy uniforms and equipment.

The guy spear-heading the whole thing was Jack Mulach, who is the principal at Maryville Grade School in Granite City. Not wanting any of the credit, Jack is typically modest about his accomplishment. But nonetheless, much of it should go to him.

Mulach, whose son Greg was the goalie for the team this season, is on the go all the time during hockey season. Greg plays not only for South, but also for the Brentwood Blazers Junior "B" team in St. Louis.

Greg was named to the St. Louis Area all-star team this past season as the goalie.

Not only is he interested in hockey, but Mulach is also an avid golfer, despite a handicap. He is an amputee, with only his right arm to swing the club with. But he is an excellent golfer, as is Greg, who plays for the varsity at South.

Of course, it wasn't a one-man operation. Harold Dix of Granite was the team's coach this season. He did it all for no pay, while holding down a job at Granite City Steel.

Joe Hassler was the treasurer of the Board of Directors, Gail McFarland the secretary. Bill McFarland assistant coach, Pat Theis, Ron Bridick and Jake Hinterser board members and John Modica the faculty advisor at South.

But the names didn't stop there. A group of 35 girls and three sponsors got together to form probably the largest cheerleading corps in the nation . . . in any sport. That's right, 35 cheerleaders!

The girls provided their own transportation to and from games (as did the players). And that's no little deal, since all of the games were played in St. Louis.

Members of the cheerleading squad were: Roxanne Alexandrian, Lynda Barunica, Lisa Bergrader, Dianne Buecker, Kathy Carlisle, Chris Coleman, Leigh Ann Feeney, Patty Gerstner, Dana Hall.

The squad sponsors and chief-uniform makers were Mary Ann Nuebauer, Ruth Klaus and cheerleader coordinator Suzie Neubauer.

It was a good season for South. It had a chance for the Mid-States Hockey playoffs late in the season and beat some highly-regarded teams.

That's not bad for a team that had practically no practices. It was hard with ice time cost, along with work and school schedules, to get the group together for practices. So the only times the players had on the ice together were actual games.

Things will get better next season. But in years ahead, the group will look back on this first season and be proud. It was tough, but you have to fall a few times before you learn to walk.

SIU tracksters are improving

By NANCY WEIL

EDWARDSVILLE — With bad weather prevailing, it is sometimes difficult to believe that the spring sports season is under way. Lori Stark, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, women's track and field coach, is fighting the obstacles of nature. With the season just started, she is pleased—weather or no weather—at the way this season is shaping up.

"Actually, we have gotten outside more this season than we had at this time last season. Although it isn't very comfortable to work in these conditions, the team members have been working hard. I'm mainly concerned that there will be injuries with the weather," she said in a pause in planning the season.

Cheryl leads attack

EDWARDSVILLE — Under cloudy skies and cold weather, the women's softball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville continued its winning streak by trouncing Principia College, 12-0, Monday afternoon. The Cougars have now won four straight.

The game, which ended after five innings, brought the Cougars' record to an even 5-5. SIUE pitcher Tammy Rainwater allowed only one hit—a single to left—in the first inning.

Brenda Schrage scored in the first frame for the Cougars when she was walked, stole second, took third on an overthrow and subsequently crossed home on a passed ball. The Cougars scored six in the second, three of those on a homerun off the bat of Amy Frey. Jane O'Laughlin, Granite Cityan Cheryl Schofield and Robin Hayde? all singled in that inning, too.

Rainwater displayed excellent pitching, striking out all three batters in the third and ending with nine strikeouts for the game.

The Cougars scored four in the third, all on Principia errors.

once in a while," laughed Champion. "We really didn't have a great game defensively, but when you're shuffling your players in and out of the lineup so much, you can't expect one."

South's starting pitcher was John Vrenick, who last week combined with teammate Terry Lindsay to pitch a no-hitter against Chatham-Glenwood. He needed fifth-inning relief help from Al Yount. Republic scored two runs in the fifth frame.

South jumped out early. It scored three runs in the second inning and three more in the third to take a 6-0 lead before Republic got to Vrenick for its three runs in the fourth inning.

"We had a lot of respect for Republic," said Champion. "They were the Missouri Legion State baseball champions last summer. They're no slouches."

If Champion thought Republic wasn't a slouch, then he must have really respected Glendale. The team won the 1978 Missouri state large school championship and had many starters returning for this season.

Glendale had earned its way to the championship game with a 4-3 victory over Springfield Hillcrest Friday afternoon. Going into that semifinal game, Hillcrest had suffered only one loss to Hillcrest the week before in extra innings.

"Those two teams are at the top of the heap in Missouri every year," said

Champion. "I guess people in Springfield were looking for the winner of that game to take it all."

Third game
South used about every trick in its book against Glendale to get away with an 11-8 victory.

The Warriors scored two runs in the first inning off of Glendale starter Steve Byers. They saw the foes tie it at 2-2 in the top of the second inning.

South then took a 6-3 lead when it scored four times in the third inning. Glendale had scored one run in the top of the frame.

Then it was Glendale's turn. It took a 7-6 lead with four runs of its own in the fourth inning only to see the Warriors retaliate with three runs in the bottom of the inning. That made it 9-7, South.

Glendale crept back to within one at 9-8, but South added two insurance runs in the fifth inning to finish off the scoring.

South reliever Dave Weil got the win in relief of Terry Lindsay. Weil entered the game in the fourth inning. Byers took the loss for Glendale.

"It wasn't a real artistic game," said Champion, "but it was exciting. We bunted, we stole some bases. We scored in just about every way."

Champion said he feels confident going into the rest of his team's season with games like these under his belt. "It helps to play as many kinds of opponents as you can in order to see how you react in various situations," he said.

"My objectives are to make myself available to the residents, and to represent them in a fair and impartial manner."

"I'll strive and work for a City Council which has truly balanced representation, with each councilman trying to represent his people in such a manner that their ward will be a better place in which to live."

"I will approach my responsibility with an open mind and without bias."

"I'll set high standards of conduct, always seeking the truth."

"I'll be sure we receive our fair share of services and representation in the ward."

"I'll work to improve our street lighting."

"I'll help our city continue to progress, so we can better face problems of the future."

"I'll work toward a larger and better Police Department."

"I'll strive for retention of open, competitive bidding for good, low-cost equipment and supplies."

"I'll vote against secret and closed-door caucuses, with an open door to all."

"I will support a merit system for the Street Department and other good full-time employees of our city."

Grieve adds, "I am an independent candidate and I am not supported by any group."

"I have not asked or received any contributions toward my candidacy for alderman, and I have paid for my campaign from my own personal funds, which means I don't have to be obligated to anyone but the citizens."

Voters show unhappiness with status of some schools

With financial crises in the back of voters' minds, Quad-Cityans on Saturday retained four incumbent school board members but defeated three others. An eighth incumbent did not seek re-election.

In the Granite City district, Stephen Salich gained re-election despite the School Board's drastic cost-cutting program, which will close three elementary schools. But Norman Hall was defeated, running third among the five candidates.

Newly elected to the board is David Partney, who stressed his desire to institute additional cost controls and to oppose political involvement.

Madison voters backed incumbents Paul Bargiel and Elvers Johnson, but Fifth Ward Alderman Donald Garrett gained one of the board positions over longtime Board Member Chester McManaway and two other candidates.

Larry Boyd of the Venice Board of Education remained a member by capturing a two-year term but incumbent George Wade lost. Earning full board terms were James E. Turner and Raymond Mosby, the latter a write-in candidate. They were aided by heavy voting in the Eagle Park residential area.

While circumstances varied in the three local community unit school systems, the balloting indicates a degree of public displeasure with the status quo, and a willingness to see whether school board members can bring fresh ideas and potential solutions to the growing school problems associated with assessment trends, conservative state funding, purchasing salary inflation, and corporate personal property tax replacement uncertainty.

In the Belleville Area College district, voters returned to their usual custom of backing most Belleville-area residents, electing Mrs. Patricia Bartsokas and re-electing Robert Dintelmann.

Municipal, park elections in Quad-City area tomorrow

Two of the four local municipalities will elect new mayors tomorrow. Pontoon Beach Village President Floyd David Moss is retiring from that office, and former Venice Mayor William M. Ebersoldt resigned, necessitating an election for the final two years of his term.

We have been impressed by the Pontoon Beach candidacy of Donald D. Patrick, whose youthful vigor and ideas could spark a new era in the history of the 16-year-old village. He is running on the Pontoon Progress Party, which also is seeking the office of village clerk and three trustee positions. One of the candidates is a former trustee, Dean Rochester.

The competing Continued Community Development Party includes the present village clerk, Mary Warren, and three current trustees, Keith Biggs and Loren Madison seeking re-election and Paul L. Bennett, running for the village presidency.

Mr. Bennett, now in the middle of a second four-year term on the village board, has considerable constructive experience with municipal government.

While the Pontoon Beach presidency will be determined for a four-year period, the Venice mayor position is for an unexpired term, due to the resignation of former Mayor Ebersoldt. He cited ill health and was replaced by Alderman E. Phillip Daniels, the present acting mayor.

Alderman Tyrone Echols has headed the Bridge, Insurance and Building Committee and has served on the Police, Sanitation and Ordinance committees. A member of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Health Systems agency, he has been active with the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society and is an employee of the Metro-East Sanitary District. His record indicates that he has the potential to serve as an effective mayor.

There is no opposition for incumbents seeking re-election to the Second and Third Ward aldermanic posts in Venice. In Ward One, we favor Mr. Daniels and in Ward Four, we lean toward Victor Valentine or David Barrett.

In Madison, City Council incumbents are unopposed in the Second and Fifth Wards. Ward One Alderman Paul Ashford and Ward Four Alderman Mike Sikora have served conscientiously for eight and 12 years, respectively. In Ward Three, Elmer Smith, owner of a materials company, is knowledgeable about city government, having served as superintendent of streets from December 1969 to February 1978.

In the Granite City Park District tomorrow, Robert A. Patrick is seeking re-election and President Jake Hinterser is retiring from the five-member board.

With two six-year terms to be decided, we favor Mr. Patrick on the basis of his board experience and record, and Henry S. Bieniecki, whose engineering, skills and environmental and ecological interests could prove helpful in setting park policies.

Grieve favors city job security

To the Editor:

I have been a resident of Madison for quite a few years and would like to say that I have been watching, listening and reading letters from different candidates in Ward 3.

So far, I have only seen one candidate that I really believe would truly represent Ward 3, and that is Robert Grieve. He has been going door-to-door talking to the citizens and passing out his own campaign letter.

One candidate has children passing out his letter. This person doesn't have enough get-up and go to give it out himself.

One letter was sent to my home by mail. It was an introduction letter, written and signed by an alderman of Ward 3.

This is the same alderman who is responsible for a couple of recent Zoning Board decision reversals. I would have thought more of it if this candidate would have signed his own letter.

Grieve shows me that his is capable of standing on his own two feet, and has the ability to stand up for what he believes in. This is the type of person we need to represent the ward as well as the city.

The candidate backed by the city has put up a lot of signs, obtained a lot of jobs for certain people, and made a lot of promises. Well, that is the same old political smokescreen always used to get city-supported candidates elected.

I hope the people aren't fooled by these tactics, because later they may have a letdown. We don't need more "yes men."

We need someone who will support and uphold job security and a merit system for city employees. Let's get behind Robert Grieve and put a man in as alderman who will work for all instead of for any special interest group.

3RD WARD RESIDENT

Kemp heads Automotive Division

Election of Paul J. Kemp, 57, formerly of Granite City, as vice president and general manager of A. O. Smith Corporation's Automotive Division was announced here Saturday. It caps a career which he began 32 years ago as an hourly trainee at the company's big Milwaukee plant.

Kemp joined A. O. Smith in 1947 after earning a mechanical engineering degree at Marquette University in Milwaukee. Starting as an hourly hansom, he followed with assignments in production control and quality control and since that time has worked in every phase of automobile and truck frame production.

In his new job, Kemp will have general management responsibility for the largest frame manufacturing operation in the nation, with three large plants and 8,000 employees. Sales in the Automotive Division last year amounted to $481 million.

HENRY BIENIECKI
Candidate for Park Board and a jogger

Marking distances along the trail would probably be appreciated by many joggers, too.

In any case, I don't think we should simply "throw important money" at the problem.

The jogging public should be given an opportunity to participate in any decision and, of course, advice should be sought from recognized authorities in jogging and in this kind of landscape or engineering design.

HENRY BIENIECKI
Candidate for Park Board and a jogger

park district in May mentions quite a few programs held at the ice rink during the summer.

To mention a few, the annual East egg hunt and Easter sunrise service held during the spring and the co-ed volleyball program, women's exercise program, adult tennis lessons, dances held during the 4th of July celebration, and the "Music Under the Stars" choral concert program.

Conveniently, these are the same types of programs that Mr. Hood pledges to start if he is elected. When approached with the above facts at the meeting, Both Mr. Hood and Mr. Mitchell stated that they knew of these programs and that the rink could be programmed more often than it is now.

If they knew of these programs, why did they say that the ice rink sits idle during the summer and is used only "five" months out of the year?

The above discrepancies were minor compared with figures and second-hand information given by the rink committee.

Mr. Mitchell started spitting out figures with no realization of what the items are or how they are talking about actually cost.

Mr. Mitchell stated that the tax multiplier handed down by the state to Madison County would increase the Park District's tax revenue by $35,000 to $40,000 per year and that he would use extra money to get the swimming pool back into "first class shape."

According to the paper, the multiplier for Madison County is to be "11," which means the Park District will not be receiving this extra money.

Mr. Mitchell feels the pool could be put back into first-class shape with the $70,000 he has anticipated with the non-existent increase.

Perhaps Mr. Mitchell is more knowledgeable, or perhaps he has someone to donate the material or labor for the pool renovation desirable and possible.

Henry Bieniecki is the one Park Board candidate who, I believe, shares these concerns and views and will do something about them.

Mr. Bieniecki is not just a sports enthusiast but also a man who believes in the beauty of trees, flowers and other living things. Such balanced viewpoints will be a welcome addition to our Park Board.

Not only will our sports programs and recreation facilities be improved, but some much-needed attention will finally be given to improving and maintaining the natural beauty of our park.

I urge all people who care about Wilson Park to vote for Henry Bieniecki this Tuesday in the Park Board election.

Sincerely,
E. M. SCHROEDER
1300 27th St.

distortions by park candidates?

project. But, according to architects and engineers who did a study of the swimming facility last summer, a more realistic amount for getting the pool into "first class shape" would be $500,000.

I am sure this figure has increased within the past year due to inflation, and yet Mr. Mitchell is going to do the same job for a maximum of $80,000. I would like to know how he plans to do that.

Secondly, Mr. Mitchell stated that he plans, if elected, to construct, fence and light tennis courts at both the West Granite and Worthen Parks. This, in itself, is a fine idea, but Mr. Mitchell feels he can do this job for $20,000.

Again, Mr. Mitchell must be planning on a lot of donated labor and material because the construction of four tennis courts, fencing these courts, and lighting the courts at the two locations would be closer to $80,000. I would like to know how he is planning to do this job for the figure he quoted.

Are candidates such as these two needed for the park board? It sounds to me like these two don't put much thought or much work into their statements.

I feel someone who thinks before speaking would be much more of an asset to the citizens of the Granite City Park District in its present and future programming efforts.

I hope that if one or both of these men are elected, they will serve with more forethought than they have used during their campaign.

So, whatever your preference may be, please vote on April 17 and make your feelings known. Consider the candidates by their statements and qualifications and vote for your favorites.

cooperation, unity

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, April 17, we the people of Venice will elect our mayor and, in the wards, aldermen.

Our candidates for mayor have made known their proposals and goals for our community. Each deserves our serious consideration.

We will vote our choices and, in the democratic process, one will be elected our mayor by a majority.

Many difficult problems confront Venice, one being our financial condition.

Our new mayor, new Council members, and continuing Council members will need the support and cooperation of all of us.

It is easy to blame, complain, criticize and be apathetic, but I am confident we as citizens will continue to work together as we have in the past.

We are citizens of Venice because we chose to be, are happy here, care about one another, and care about our city. Let this be evident not only on election day but all the days following.

We have been a topic in the news media. Several times, not always favorably. May we deserve and receive coverage which truly represent our united city.

My prayer and hope as a citizen is that we will be a united Venice after the election and that we all pledge our support to the newly-elected mayor and aldermen.

As a citizen, I now offer my service and cooperation in any way that will be beneficial to the best interest of the city of Venice.

To the Editor:

Now Mr. Bieniecki is running for membership on the board of commissioners of the Granite City Park District.

I am familiar with his views on what the parks do and do not need, and therefore think that Mr. Bieniecki would be a diligent, conscientious and circumspect member of the board.

If ever there was a need for another member with those qualifications, it is now.

Will April 17 show a record number of voters turning out for a Park Board election? I sincerely hope so, because it cannot but help elect Mr. Bieniecki.

Drainage hampers park joggers

To the Editor:

Last fall when the Wave-Tek surfing pool first broke the news, you may recall I sent a letter to the Forum suggesting that the whole proposal be shelved and that the community would be better served for exercise purposes by an all-weather jogging trail in Wilson Park.

Since this has been taken up as a campaign issue by one of the candidates for the Park Board, I would like to clarify my proposal.

As a jogger myself of 14 or 15 years, I am not talking about the installation of a kind of hard surfaced, asphalt-type track on the perimeter of Wilson Park.

On one count, it would probably cost $20,000 to $30,000 or more. On a more important count, we older joggers prefer a softer surface and should probably avoid hard surfaces such as asphalt paving.

A jogging trail should also not be made too tempting for use by bicyclists.

The primary need, as I see it personally, is to improve drainage in low areas on the perimeter of Wilson Park to maintain jogging in wet shoes and socks.

Marking distances along the trail would probably be appreciated by many joggers, too.

In any case, I don't think we should simply "throw important money" at the problem.

In group that opposed park pool

To the Editor:

Now Mr. Bieniecki is running for membership on the board of commissioners of the Granite City Park District.

I am familiar with his views on what the parks do and do not need, and therefore think that Mr. Bieniecki would be a diligent, conscientious and circumspect member of the board.

If ever there was a need for another member with those qualifications, it is now.

Will April 17 show a record number of voters turning out for a Park Board election? I sincerely hope so, because it cannot but help elect Mr. Bieniecki.

Drainage hampers park joggers

To the Editor:

Last fall when the Wave-Tek surfing pool first broke the news, you may recall I sent a letter to the Forum suggesting that the whole proposal be shelved and that the community would be better served for exercise purposes by an all-weather jogging trail in Wilson Park.

Since this has been taken up as a campaign issue by one of the candidates for the Park Board, I would like to clarify my proposal.

As a jogger myself of 14 or 15 years, I am not talking about the installation of a kind of hard surfaced, asphalt-type track on the perimeter of Wilson Park.

On one count, it would probably cost $20,000 to $30,000 or more. On a more important count, we older joggers prefer a softer surface and should probably avoid hard surfaces such as asphalt paving.

A jogging trail should also not be made too tempting for use by bicyclists.

The primary need, as I see it personally, is to improve drainage in low areas on the perimeter of Wilson Park

Versatile art students to display their works

Granite City High School South will present its third annual Fine Arts Festival on Thursday evening, beginning at 7. Admission is free.

The festival will consist of hundreds of pieces of student work, displayed throughout the art department and corridors.

The music and speech departments will be offering skits, band selections, readings and vocal entertainment.

Senior art students will each have their own display of work done during their four years in the department. Freshman, sophomore and junior work also will be displayed throughout the three art rooms.

Techniques included in this year's show will include oil painting, knife painting, watercolor, pen and ink, charcoal, gouache, brayer, oil pastel, tempera, sculpture, pencil, jewelry, collages, scratch board and mixed media. Some student work will be available for sale.

The purpose of the festival is to extend culture and appreciation for the fine arts to the community and give recognition to outstanding students.

A spokesman for the art department commented that members of the community who haven't attended the festival in the past do not realize the quality of the work the students do.

"Art is life," according to the spokesman, "and it reflects the society that produces it."

The fine arts are important in the development of the well-rounded individual. The student must have a creative outlet to maintain his needs in our complex society."

Several talented seniors will be drawing character sketches of individuals wishing to pose during the display. Faculty members will be in attendance and say they are looking forward to a good turnout in support of the fine arts departments at South.

Passengers hurt

Two persons were injured when the cars of Scott Atchley, 20, Chickasha, Okla., and Dorothy Chamness, Wood River, collided at 25th and Iowa streets last week.

Atchley was issued a ticket alleging he violated the eastbound stop sign on 25th Street and collided with the northbound auto.

Injured and taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center were two passengers in Dorothy Chamness' auto. Due to a power outage at the medical center caused by flooding in the basement of the Doctor's Wing, both were transferred to other hospitals after examination here.

Deer killed on Nameoki

Seeing a deer is usually a pleasant experience, unless you are a motorist and the deer runs in front of your auto.

That is what happened to Leonard E. Smith, 32, Moorland Drive, Mitchell, at 6:50 p.m. Sunday—not on a back country road but on Nameoki Road at Clark Avenue, in front of Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road.

Smith was southbound on Nameoki Road when the deer ran into the roadway from the parking lot of Nameoki Village Shopping Center into the path of the auto.

The driver was unable to avoid striking the deer, and killed it. There was damage to the right front of the car.

Favors industry role with parks

At a Carpenters Local 633 Union meeting, David J. Nolan, a Granite City candidate for the park board discussed issues facing the voters in tomorrow's election.

Nolan explained to the members the funding procedures involved with the park district. He stated, "The district appropriation ordinance has a final line amount of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. One-half million dollars of the total amount appropriated is levied through taxes.

"This brings about one-quarter of a million dollars that must be raised through receipts from the various facilities, concession stands and programs. Falling attendance the past few years at the ice rink and swimming pool presents a problem in meeting the budget," he said.

Nolan suggested consideration of plans involving local industry, business and contractors to solve this problem. "In the past few years, the citizens have seen local industry donate time and material to the school district and other organizations. It is time for the park district to utilize these same resources."

"Involvement by local businessmen in park functions and activities should be encouraged by the park board."

"Local contractors could be encouraged to donate useable scrap material, such as large storm pipes which can be converted into a children's playground at very little cost to the district."

"Involvement by these groups with the park district would not only help the district in cutting costs but would be good public relations for the groups."

"I grew up using the park facilities and attending park activities. I feel that the public wants our children to be able to use these facilities and activities in the years to come."

"I will work hard, utilizing my experience in every phase of park activities, to insure that the people will retain for their children a safe, clean place to grow and play," Nolan told the union members.

HITS PARKED CAR
Charles Beasley, 32, of 1751 Chestnut St., was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident after his auto struck the parked car of Melvin Allen, 2420 Madison Ave., in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue at 12:15 a.m. Friday. He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted for an abrasion to his right elbow, bleeding from his nose and other injuries.

Lennox' reputation for quality wasn't built by skipping on materials.

While some manufacturers have begun using aluminum tubing in their heat pump and condensing coils, Lennox has stayed with proven dependable copper tubing. Copper costs a little more, but the advantages are worth it.

Copper tubing is easier to work with... less brittle... more flexible... makes tight joints. Our tests show copper holds up to reactive elements in the environment much better than aluminum.

There Are Some Things You Can't Preserve By Putting A Lid On Them

To grow and preserve a vital, thriving community, it takes neighbors working with neighbors.

Better building and zoning codes. More money for home improvements. Adequate health and safety standards for housing. Parks and playgrounds. New buildings and new businesses. No question about it. All of these help to improve an environment.

But the most important ingredient in this preservation game is PEOPLE. Interested in, proud of, and willing to work for, a vital community. Count us in!

BPW to observe 60th year

The 60th anniversary of the founding of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be celebrated at a dinner meeting Wednesday night, hosted by the Granite City Business and Professional Women.

The event will take place at the Metropolitan St. Louis Bar Association, located on the 36th floor of the Mercantile Building, Seventh Street, St. Louis.

A social hour will start at 6 o'clock, followed by dinner at 7.

Principal speakers and guests at the anniversary observance will be Lucille Anne Schott, president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women, Wilma Harpole, state president-elect, and Coleen Forrys of Rockford, first vice-president.

Also to be honored will be St. Elizabeth Medical Center in recognition of its 75th anniversary year.

Louise Smith, president of St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary, an organization whose formation was aided by the Granite City BPW Club, and Sister Mary Frances, hospital accountant, will represent the local medical center.

Miss Schott has been employed by the University of Chicago more than 20 years and is presently assigned to the Development Office.

She served as administrative assistant to Eugene F. Gerwe, vice president for Development, and previously was administrative assistant and secretary to William B. Cannon, vice-president for Programs and Projects.

During her tenure at the University of Chicago, Miss Schott spent two years as administrative research assistant to the Economic Study Commission, comprised of 30 men representing the faculty, trustees and top business leaders from across the United States.

She also has been executive secretary to other key administrators at the university.

Miss Schott has traveled extensively, visiting Europe, Central and South America and most states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

She will relinquish her state BPW position April 27 when she installs Wilma Harpole of Mount Vernon as president.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's organization was founded in 1919 and launched its first nationwide project in support of the 19th Amendment for women's suffrage in 1920.

Two years later BPW started a move for uniform marriage and divorce laws in the U.S. and in 1930 helped to form the International Federation of BPW.

WILMA HARPOLE
 President-Elect

In 1933, the BPW became active in a campaign to repeal the National Economy Act, under which a wife could be dismissed if her husband worked.

Also in the 1930s, the BPW endorsed the Equal Rights Amendment for the first time and lobbied to have women appointed to the Civil Service Commission and the Security Boards.

BPW supported legislation to establish women's branches of the armed forces and secure equal status for women in the armed forces' medical services.

The women's group participated in the conferences which drew up the United Nations Charter in 1945 and the following year began promoting the support of women in political office. A national research center for working women and the Business and Professional Women's Foundation were established in 1952, and BPW sponsored the first congress for women leaders in the Western Hemisphere in 1963.

A move to establish commissions in all states on the Status of Women was undertaken in 1964.

Sex discrimination in public education was a key project of the women's group in 1972 and, in 1973, BPW members pledged and raised $250,000 in one year to help ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment and subsequently approved a permanent dues assessment until passage occurs.

To teach women political skills, the BPW has sponsored political and legislative conferences and various programs that concentrate on leadership, personal development and individual growth.

Scholarships available through the Foundation have enabled women to continue their education and obtain job training.

Great strides have been made in improving conditions for working women, yet much remains to be done, Miss Schott said.

"With dedication to our principles, however, we will prove in the future what we have proved in the past — together we aspire and together we achieve," she added.

Some of the highlights of BPW history will be presented in the form of a skit at Wednesday's dinner meeting by Lois Wetton, president of the Granite City BPW Club.

Hit on head with pool cue

Jerry W. Christian, 28, of 2013 Harris Ave., Madison, was struck on the head with a pool cue by an unidentified assailant at 1:10 a.m. Friday at the Shanty 66 Tavern, 1415 Fifth St., Madison.

Christian was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and had sutures taken in a three-inch laceration on the forehead. He was released after treatment.

He said an argument developed during a game of pool and a man about 6-1 tall, weighing 270 pounds struck him on the head with a cue stick.

His attacker was in his early to middle 20s and was wearing a white shirt and blue jeans.

Home purchase, ownership seen as an anti-inflation investment

Mention of "investments" conjures up visions of such things as stocks and bonds in the minds of many people — fairly sophisticated forms of investment.

Many people say they feel their investments, because of complexity, cost or other factors, are beyond their reach or are too risky. Last year, however, five million Americans — many without realizing it — placed their money in an investment which has outperformed savings accounts, common stocks and corporate bonds over the past decade.

What wise investment did the five million people make? They bought a single-family home, according to a spokesman for the Granite City Board of Realtors.

He made the comment in conjunction with the Granite City Board of Realtors observance of Private Property Week, April 15-21.

The National Association of Realtors and its more than 600,000 members pause briefly during this week to commemorate "the right that individual Americans have to own property."

Between 1967 and 1977, a period when the nation experienced its worst inflation of the past 50 years, single-family homes were one of the few assets which kept ahead of inflation, he said, adding:

"On the average, a dollar invested in a single-family home in 1967 was worth $1.23 in 1977. Corporate bonds also kept pace, gaining 18 cents in value.

"Other popular investments did not fare as well," he continued. "Each dollar invested in a savings account yielding 5.25 percent declined seven cents in value. Common stocks were worth 20 cents less in 1977 than 10 years previously.

"Dollars held as cash lost 45 cents in value. That is, each dollar hidden under a mattress or in a cookie jar in 1967 was worth only 55 cents in 1977," he said.

"Because homes have provided unparalleled protection against inflation in recent years, more people have been looking at the single-family home as an investment.

"Inflation is not expected to vanish in the foreseeable future, so the investment potential of homeownership is expected to continue to motivate people to buy homes," he concluded.

Athletic, SIUE Center fees up

Increases in athletic and University Center fees at SIUE were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees, meeting on the Alton campus of the School of Dental Medicine.

The University Center fee will be increased to $25.50 per quarter from the current level of $19 per quarter, effective in the summer quarter.

The athletic fee will be increased to $18 per quarter from the current level of $10 per quarter, effective with the fall quarter.

The increases have been under consideration by the board since the proposals were submitted at the March 8 meeting of trustees in Carbondale. Both fees are part of the regular schedule of student fees, which are pre-rated for part-time students.

University officers said the increase in the University Center fee is based on inflationary pressures and enrollment declines since the last general increase in 1972.

The fee was increased in 1977, but officers said that raise was designed only to offset a reduction imposed by the Board of Higher Education in tuition retention funds supporting the Center and did not adjust for inflation.

Officers said that, in fact, the 1977 increase has not offset the entire loss resulting from the reduction in tuition retention funds, generating only about $190,000 of the $205,000 needed for this purpose.

Attempts have been made through economy measures, including more efficient operations, reductions in staffing levels and reductions in hours of operations and services, to balance the Center's budget. But $40,800 will be needed from the Center's working capital to balance the budget this fiscal year.

The management of the Center has set a goal of increasing net income from revenue producing units in the Center by 3.5 percent in the next fiscal year, and a requirement has been established that the University Center food service will operate at a break-even level during the 1979-80 fiscal year, beginning July 1.

Otherwise, current levels of operation can be maintained with the fee increase approval, university officers said.

They added that the athletic fee increase is based on inflationary pressures since the last increase in 1968, a drop in enrollment, a shift in funding of coaches' salaries from state funds to fee revenues, a nearly 20-fold increase in the cost of the women's athletic program, and depletion of reserve funds generated in earlier years and held in escrow.

Singleton takes heat pump course

Steve Singleton of Comfort Air Conditioning and Heating, Inc., of Granite City has successfully completed the heat pump certification course through Lennox Industries. A four-day school held in St. Louis included basic requirements for the proper application, installation and service of heat pumps.

The nationwide program, covering more than 5,000 certified Lennox dealers, is expected to be completed within two years and is designed to assure consumers of the heat pump application and service capability of the installing Lennox dealer.

Garrett cites 5th Ward's progress

Don E. Garrett, 401 W. 2nd St., is unopposed tomorrow for re-election as Fifth Ward alderman in Madison. The father of three children aged 15, 11 and nine, he is the Venice Township Precinct Five Democratic committeeman.

Regarding his unopposed candidacy to remain on the City Council, Garrett comments:

"There are no issues, as such. There is a challenge. Can our party continue the tremendous progress we have made in West Madison during the past four years?"

"We fulfilled every promise we made during my first election campaign in 1975, and went on to complete other projects of even greater significance.

"In 1975, we promised completion of the street paving project, jobs at City Hall, increased playground and recreational facilities, return of the West Madison Community Center to full-service community use, and meetings and news releases to keep the community well informed.

"We completed every one of those promises. We also established a full-service and fully staffed Senior Citizens Center. We not only finished paving the streets, but paved the alleys, too.

"We have re-modeled or repaired over half of the homes in need, with the assistance of a Community Development block grant.

"Every block and street in West Madison has been provided with clearly-marked street identification signs, safety and directional signs," Garrett relates.

"There are three times as many employees working in city-related jobs than ever before.

"City services have improved to the extent that our neighborhood is one of the cleanest in the metropolitan area.

"We have provided summer recreational and job programs for our young people for the past three years."

Right to own real estate is called vital; includes duty to preserve, cherish land

Members of the Granite City Board of Realtors said in a joint statement during the weekend that "the microcosm of our free enterprise system is perhaps best demonstrated in the right each of us has to own real property."

"This inalienable right is granted to us through the efforts of our colonial forefathers. It is a right that we oftentimes take for granted.

"But with this right there comes an obligation. 'It is an obligation born out of a need to preserve the very land upon which we work and play. The beautiful lakes and streams that provide us summer and winter pleasures, the mountains that stand the test of time as mementos from our Supreme Creator, the woods that provide a year's long playground clothes in an extravaganza of always-changing colors. All these things we look at as our due, our heritage.

"To mark this heritage, the week of April 15-21 has been set aside for Private Property Week.

"The Granite City Board of Realtors celebrates this annual observance by joining with the more than 600,000 Realtors and Realtor-Associates across the nation in offering community programs and activities calling attention to the heritage that we have in the land.

"It is a complicated heritage in that it provides enjoyment while at the same time posing an obligation to each of us.

"We must learn to preserve the land, we must learn to nurture it, protect it, develop it and watch it grow.

"These are essential steps because, without a planned effort at preservation of the land, we may see in this country a deterioration of land and with it a deterioration of citizens' rights to own land.

"Let us, therefore, cherish the gift of real property that each of us, as a citizen, is given free of charge on the day we are born in America.

"Let us, at the same time, realize that this gift comes with an obligation: an obligation to preserve the land so that future generations will never lack for clean and abundant streams and lakes, for tree-filled forests, and for mountains that bear no scars of man's inconsiderate and random quest for progress.

"We renew and continue our support of efforts to make our free enterprise system work for each of us."

Togetherness for injured Omaha man, wife at GC medical center

(St. Elizabeth Medical Center) — A sudden snowstorm the evening of March 24 was a nuisance to many, but for Edwin and Helen Pelecky of Omaha, Neb., it brought an unexpected and frightening end to their vacation.

While traveling home from their trip to the eastern United States — with one more planned stop at the Lake of the Ozarks — the Peleckys suddenly found themselves in the unfortunate position of last car in a multi-vehicle pileup on Interstate 270, just north of Granite City.

"We were the end of the line," Pelecky said. "There were five or six cars and three semis in the accident, too." Their Chevrolet Suburban truck and 30-foot travel trailer were demolished in the crash.

Taken first to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, the Peleckys were then transferred to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Pelecky had a broken jaw broken leg, and Mrs. Pelecky had a broken jaw which later required plastic surgery.

Any accident is a harrowing experience, but especially one that occurs hundreds of miles from home.

"It's quite a lonely feeling when nobody's around that you're used to. Usually when you're sick, you're at home and the family is around to take care of you," Pelecky said. Even so, they found their stay at SEMC pleasant — at least as pleasant as it could have been under the circumstances.

"The hospital treated us really well. The care was good from start to finish. One of the nicest things was putting us in the same room together. It was very reassuring.

"I imagine if we were both critical, they wouldn't have done it. But as it was, it worked out well for both of us," he said.

Ten days in the same room together might cause some couples to get on each other's nerves. Not the Peleckys.

"We've been gone from home since the tenth of January, so we're used to being together," Mrs. Pelecky said. "When you're in the same room, you've got to get along."

SEMC's medical staff contacted the Peleckys' Omaha physician to keep him up-to-date, and the nursing staff assisted with the necessary calls to relatives back home.

"When we got to our room, the nurse helped us get the operator and place the calls. All of the personnel were just great. They did all the little things we couldn't do for ourselves. We didn't feel like we were alone," Pelecky commented.

The Peleckys were complimentary of SEMC's Dietary Department.

"Overall, the food was pretty good," Pelecky said. His wife added, "In fact, there was too much ice cream. I couldn't lose any weight on what they kept giving me."

Even though their truck and trailer were destroyed in the accident, the Peleckys had no doubts about getting home. After their unscheduled stay in Granite City at SEMC, they left once again for Omaha — this time by plane.

China tour by Cong. Price

House Armed Services Committee Chairman Melvin Price of this district is leading a committee delegation to the People's Republic of China (PRC) during the Congressional district work period, April 12-22.

"With the normalization of relations between the United States and the People's Republic of China, the members of the committee felt strongly that it was important that representatives of the committee have an early opportunity to meet with the principal leaders of the PRC to discuss matters within the committee's area of interest," Chairman Price said.

In addition to discussions with senior PRC officials, the delegation expects to visit military installations and activities and meet with appropriate representatives of the military establishment.

Among the matters which the delegation hopes to discuss with leaders of the PRC are conditions on the Sino-Soviet border, technology transfer, the transfer of weapons by the Soviets and other nations to countries in Southeast Asia, and the security situation on the Korean Peninsula.

Price noted that the delegation's study will follow up the review of East and Northeast Asian security matters carried out by another committee delegation last fall.

Commenting on the significance of the committee's trip at this time,

Chairman Price said, "We must recognize that the status of relations between the United States and the PRC on the one hand, and between the PRC and the Soviet Union on the other, is of tremendous significance to our long-term national security interests."

"The normalization of relations and what appears to be an opening-up of the PRC to mutual trade relations with major industrial countries are developments which impact on the work of many committees of Congress, as well as Armed Services."

"We hope the delegation's findings will be helpful to other committees as well as our own."

The delegation left Washington, D.C., Thursday, with an overnight stop in Tokyo and arrival in Beijing (Peking) on Saturday.

The delegation will remain in the PRC until Saturday, April 21, with additional in-country stops at Hangzhou (Ghangchow), Shanghai and Guangzhou (Canton).

The delegation is scheduled to return to Washington Sunday, April 22.

HIT BY BEAM

Miss Annette Hilton, 24, of 33 Grenzer Homes, Madison, was injured when she was struck by a falling beam while at work at Brady-Jordan Engineering Co. in Madison last week. She suffered a bump to her forehead and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for observation.

Senior Olympics discussed

The Senior Olympics, to be held in June at SIUE, were among the topics discussed at a regular meeting of the Happy Group Senior Citizens Club.

Cleveland Cox, vice-president, presided. The Lord's Prayer and the pledge to the flag were said in unison to open the meeting.

Tentative plans are being made for a one-day bus trip to Arcadia Valley, Mo., on May 17. Further plans will be discussed at the next meeting.

Also discussed were plans for a pot luck dinner to be held April 19 at 1:30 p.m. Members are to bring a table service.

A prize was won by Effie Johnson. Refreshments were served to 23 members, followed by games.
